The election returns from Oregon indicates that the Democrats are off in the army.

Capt. Gridley's remains will be cremated at Yokohama, in deference to his wishes expressed during life.

The steamer Charleston touched at Honolulu, May 29, en route to Manila, after a fast and uneventful run.

Chattanooga is getting ready for a tremendous blowout on July 4 and will try to have President McKinley present.

A movement is on foot to change the capital of China from Peking to Siun Fu. The Emperor is said to favor the change.

If the forts at Santiago were battered down and the guns silenced, why did not Sampson enter the harbor and do the rest of the business?

The Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs has solemnly resolved that its married members shall use their own names instead of those of their husbands.

Congressman T. C. Catchings and Editor C. E. Wright had a set-to on the street in Vicksburg over campaign charges. Only one round was fought, the result being a draw.

A petition is being circulated in Henderson asking Ex-Gov. Brown to again run for the Democratic nomination for Governor. It begins to look like the race next year will be a free for all.

Sampson is hurrying up his operations in a way that gives color to the idea that he wants to have them whipped when the army gets there. This plan, if successful, will leave no trouble in placing the credit where it belongs.

The Louisville Dispatch is very justly filled with pride over the great scoop it worked on all of the other Louisville papers, in giving an account of the battle of Santiago a day ahead of even the afternoon papers. It was an achievement to be proud of.

In swearing into office the new Librarian, Miss Pauline Hardin, Deputy Clerk Bob Greene had some fun at her expense. He incorporated in the oath of office a supplementary clause requiring her to pledge herself not to marry during her term of office, as Miss Guy had done. She made the promise, but did it with a laugh.

A fatal blunder has again been made by the Administration in not having men at hand to follow up the naval advantages at Santiago. If the army had been landed as it should have been a month ago, the war on the Southern coast of Cuba would have been ended last Monday.

Ex-Senator John J. Ingalls, of Kansas, whose fame as a brilliant writer, a man of remarkable scholarship and literary attainments, is even greater than that of the distinguished senator, announces a new book on the subject of the American-Spanish-Cuban War. It is entitled "America's War For Humanity in Picture and Story." It is published by the N. D. Thompson Publishing Co., of St. Louis, Mo., and is an exhaustive discussion of the causes of the war, and an equally exhaustive history of its incidents, and a brilliant analysis of the famous characters conducting it. It promises to be the one great and popular work called forth by this wonderful interesting national episode. Whatever Senator Ingalls touches he adorns; and this book shines and sparkles in the light of his genius. The present work is worthy of his genius, and will be a monument to his fame. The subject now so engrosses the popular mind as to forecast for this book a sale that will be universal. It will be sold by subscription only, and the canvassing samples are now ready for agents. We advertise it in another column.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

Cervera is the greatest reconcentrado to-day.

When we get a Dewey place we may add a Hobson boulevard.

The Merrimac was not altogether a full stop. A Colon passed it.

There are other Richmonds than Richmond Hobson in the field.

Russia is buying Cramp ships in the hope of giving Mr. Bull the colic.

It is a serious matter when a Mayor is rendered speechless at a Hibernian festival.

The locust with a W is of no interest this year, the war having got in ahead of him.

Had Uncle Sam ever been a boy he would have put pockets in the coats of his officers.

Unfortunately for the war poets, neither Hobson nor Dewey is a convenient name for rhyming.

The Captain of the Oregon doesn't have to blow his own horn since he sailed around the Cape.

What has become of that Spanish shriek, Weyler, who was to impale so much American prey?

Three of the Merrimac heroes were born in Boston. Let us raise less wheat and cotton and more beans.

Hobson is the son of Hob, the countryman or plowman. Thus the reputation of the heroes that arise out of the common people is maintained.

When Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin she did not suppose that bloodhounds would so soon be chasing white fugitives in Northern States.

Lieut. Hobson has come to the rescue of the boy bookworm. The bad schoolboy who will not study is not to have it all his own way in future deeds of daring.

If Blanco hangs a single American newspaper correspondent let Blanco himself be hanged. Surviving correspondents can report the execution. They will miss none of the particulars.

If the pro-Spanish tone of some of the Russian journals stands for Russian sentiment, the guns of the warships to be built for Russia by Americans may some day be turned against us.

The convicts at Jefferson City were glad to get the flowers that were given them on memorial Day, though they would have much preferred to have been where they could have done the picking themselves.

If Cervera made love in vain to the daughter of a United States Senator he has a grievance which may well arouse him to terrible deeds. It is a tragic event when a handsome foreigner misses a beautiful American girl.

Instead of having cornbread at but one meal, Missouri restaurants, boarding houses and hotels should provide it at every meal. Missouri's production of corn is marvelous, and it should be fully recognized by all Missourians.

Latest returns from the Oregon State election shows large Republican gains in every county of the State over the vote of 1896. Partial returns from twenty-five out of thirty-two counties of the State show that Geer, Republican, for Governor, will have about 10,000 plurality; Moody, Republican for Congress in the Second District, will have a plurality approaching 5,000; Tongue, Republican, is re-elected to Congress from the First District by more than 2,000 plurality. The figures may be slightly changed by later returns.

Lieut. Hobson has put a stop to the collection started by a Mobile paper to lift the mortgage on his mother's home. He has knocked the sentiment out of the transaction by stating that only a small balance remains on the mortgage and that will be paid when it is due.

Mrs. Mary Benton was killed by a train at Louisville.

ASKS DAUGHTERS TO RETURN.

Stern St. Louis Parent Relents After Enduring a Short Period of Solitude.

Jacob Burkhart, the retired engineer at St. Louis, who told his daughters they must leave home because they were not married, has become lonesome and has extended the olive branch to them.

The action on his part was one of the most unique parental orders ever recorded. There were four girls, one of them a widow. They were young and pretty and had many admirers, but manifested no disposition to marry. The father, last November, told them that if they were not married by Christmas they would have to leave his house and support themselves.

This notice was published in the papers, and hundreds of offers were received from young men in all parts of the country, but were refused. The girls did not marry, and on Christmas day they moved into a pretty flat which they had rented.

Their father has lived alone in his big house.

He said the other day that he was very lonesome and wanted his daughters to come back and live with him again, married or unmarried. The girls told a reporter that they were not yet prepared for a reconciliation and that they were in perfect peace and no four young women in the country were happier than they. They could see no reason to make a change and return to the parental roof. They say, however, that it may all come about that they may return to their father, as he is nearly 70 years old and is quite feeble.
